THE above named work, published at the Office of "THE HONGKONG TELEGRAPH," contains a Directory for the Ports in the large portion of Asia, between Penang, in the Straits Settlements, and the Northern Chinese Ports, including Vladivostock, Formosa, the Treaty Ports of China and Japan, Cochin-China, the Philippine Islands, Corea, British North Borneo, the British Colony of Hongkong and the Portuguese Colony of Macao. It also contains the Principal Treaties between European countries and the United States and the countries East of the Straits, including the Treaties and Conventions between China and Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia, the United States of America, Brazil, Japan, Peru, Spain, and Portugal; together with conditions of Trade, and the Port, Customs, Consular, and Harbour Regulations for the Ports of China and Japan; also descriptions of the various Ports, with the latest Trade Statistics taken from the Reports of the Imperial Maritime Customs and other reliable sources.

The various Governments and Municipal Corporations, and all Public Bodies and Companies, Bankers, Merchants, Consuls, Professional men and other Residents, have supplied the necessary matter, upon forms specially sent for that purpose so as to ensure accuracy. The Naval and Military portions have been taken from the latest published official lists and revised at Headquarters; in fact, no pains have been spared to make "THE HONGKONG DIRECTORY AND HONG LIST FOR THE FAR EAST" a handy and perfectly reliable book of reference for all classes.

In addition to the above, "THE HONGKONG DIRECTORY AND HONG LIST FOR THE FAR EAST" for 1893 contains a greatly revised

FLUID EXTRACT OF MALT.

THE use of that extremely valuable Food and Remedy EXTRACT OF MALT has been retarded by its usually viscous condition; to obviate the objection we have had prepared a FLUID EXTRACT OF MALT as easily poured out of the bottle and measured into doses as any other Fluid.

It contains as much of the DIESTASE as any viscous EXTRACT OF MALT and is therefore fully as active in tissue forming and digestive power.

Two tablespoonfuls of our FLUID EXTRACT OF MALT contain more nutritive and digestive value than a pint of the strongest Ale or Stout. In 1 lb. bottles 75 cents. Per dozen $8.00. Hongkong, 12th January, 1893. [38]

A. S. WATSON & CO., LTD. WINES AND SPIRITS.

It is requested that all communications relating to Subscriptions, Advertisements, &c., be addressed to the "Manager, Hongkong Telegraph," and not to the Editor.

Editorial matter is sent to "The Editor" and to individual subscribers.

Communications intended for publication must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication; but as evidence of good faith.

The Agents (Messrs. Dodwell, Carill & Co.) inform us that the Northern Pacific Steamship "Caribou" has ordered 100 jinrikishas to be shipped north, to run between Tientsin and Peking.

The Agents (Messrs. Dodwell, Carill & Co.) inform us that the Northern Pacific Steamship "Tacoma," from Tacoma, arrived at Yokohama this morning, and will leave for this port (direct) to-morrow.

THE P. & O. S. N. Co.'s steamer "Manila" left Singapore at 8.30 p.m. yesterday, for this port.

The "Mercury" says that Sheng Customs Tao-tai at Tientsin, has ordered 100 jinrikishas to be shipped north, to run between Tientsin and Peking.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co.'s Royal mail steamer "Empress of China," Capt. R. Archibald, from Hongkong, arrived at Kobe at 3 p.m., and left again at 1 p.m. for Vancouver, via Yokohama.

The Agents (Messrs. Dodwell, Carill & Co.) inform us that the Northern

THE HONGKONG TELEGRAPH, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1893.

that it would be necessary to make some alteration to the Old Rooms, to make them more suitable for the members' needs; but, on approaching the landlord, they found he was not willing to meet their views, and they decided to move into more suitable premises; which, after a good deal of trouble, was done, and has since been by the increased attendance at the rooms, that the change, together with the introduction of the electric light, has been much appreciated by the members.

During the year we have been very fortunate with some of our members coming forward to assist in maintaining the usefulness of the Institution.—There was Mr. Bailey's paper on "Economy in Steam Navigation," which created a great deal of friendly discussion, not only at the time of reading, but for a long time afterwards, and the Committee take this opportunity of expressing how much they were indebted to Mr. Bailey for his kind assistance, and trust that during the coming year we will again come forward and give the members the benefit of some of his instructive experiments on board ship.

The next was a paper by Mr. Winterburn on the "Arrangement of Cylinders and Cranks in Triple-Expansion Marine Engines." This paper was also very interesting and was augmented with some nicely arranged diagrams for the writer of the paper and Mr. R. Mitchell, who had assisted him to enlarge them, were highly complimented.

The next was a Lecture on Electric Bell, by Mr. W. S. Harrison, which was very much enjoyed by the members present—the practical experiments especially being highly appreciated.

A scheme was introduced at a Quarterly Meeting, on the 15th August, for the purpose of raising a Subscription Fund for a Reference Library, and Mr. Gillies very generously started the Subscription with the sum of £200; the members have come forward very handsomely and the List now stands at the respectable sum of £500, and there are still more to come. Out of this sum £300 has been already sent home for the purchase of the first lot of books, which have been selected by the Committee.

The Saturday Evening Concerts have been, in many cases, a great success, and the Committee again draw the attention of the members to the very kind present of a Piano from Mr. and Mrs. A. Young, of Manila, without which our Concerts could not have been held; and while thanking the gentlemen who have assisted during the past year, they hope that they will continue to help during the coming year.

The election of the following officers for the year 1893 will be necessary:

The Hon. Secretary and Treasurer.

The Managing Committee, with the exception of Messrs. Mudge and Aitken, offer themselves for re-election.

Mr. John W. Kinghorn, Hon. Secretary, re-elected.

John W. Kinghorn, Hon. Secretary.

Wm. Ramsay, Chairman of Committee.

THE VANISHING ACT.

It is not very long since Sir William Robinson, Governor of Hongkong, announced that he would redeem his promise of retirement, by the peculiar course of substituting cheap Portuguese and Chinese labour for European in the subordinate branches of the Colonial Service. We made some nasty remarks at the time, which we now humbly beg to withdraw entirely; but we are going to take out naturalization papers at Macao, and so qualify for sinecure berths at princely salaries with a "Vanishing Act" at finale.

Information is wanted by the police as to Senator Andronico Ferreira Alves, late head clerk and acting cashier of the Treasury, Hongkong; born at Macao; age about 50; height 5 ft. 6 in.; stout built; black hair, getting grey; dark eyebrows, squat nose, large mouth, round clean-shaven chin; round face, dark complexion, black moustache turning grey a little; dressed in dark coat and light trousers; usually wearing gold finger rings (on his nose, that is—not on his fingers); wanted for larceny of $1,000.

This gentleman was in receipt of twice as much pay as an ordinary white man gets for clerical work in the East. He gambled a good deal, and when such persons get to gambling, their employers' money is their first resort. Probably he made away with a good deal more than is set down in the warrant now issued for his arrest. He was last seen yesterday morning going down from his house in Cairo Road to the office as usual. He is said to have lost his way and arrived to Macao.

Now, isn't this case enough to make any decent man sick?

NEWS BY THE AMERICAN MAIL.

The Occidental and Oriental Co.'s steamship Oceanic, Capt. W. M. Smith, with the American mails of the 4th January, arrived in port last night. We are indebted for the subjoined telegrams to our San Francisco exchanges:

LA ROCHELLE, December 31st. The steamer Eurydice des Verges, while in a fog, ran on the Chardonnelle d'Oleron and had to be abandoned. The crew was saved.

BRATTLEBORO, (Vt.) January 1st. A daughter was born on Tuesday afternoon to Mrs. Rudyard Kipling, wife of the well-known English writer, who is spending the winter here with his wife's relatives. The family residence of the Basters, Beachwood and Bliss homestead, are located about four miles north of the village upon rising ground, commanding a long stretch of Connecticut-river scenery. The mountain opposite, and the terraced village sloping down to the river.

BERLIN, January 1st. The serious character of the coal miners' strike has induced the authorities to send four battalions of troops and a large force of gendarmes to the scene.

The strikers now number 22,000. Many of them are armed and serious rioting is reported at several places in the district. Many were willing to work, but were forced by the strikers to quit. The socialists and anarchists are behind the movement.

The Kaiser has given orders that the rioting must be suppressed at any cost.

At the New Year's reception yesterday Empress William, in the course of his address, said that the Reichstag would be dissolved unless it passed the Army bill.

AMSTERDAM, January 1st. The unemployed of Zwartevoort, on Overseel, held an outdoor meeting to-day, and after listening to several anarchist speeches began rioting. They visited all the finest houses, smashed many windows and stoned several conspicuous residents of the town. When the police approached, the rioters attacked them with sticks and stones. A rioter was shot dead by the police, at whom he was aiming a carbine. Two policemen were beaten into unconsciousness and many rioters were wounded. About thirty rioters were arrested.

Similar riots took place at Pekela and Sappemeer. The police were put to flight by a mob that would be necessary to make some alteration to the Old Rooms, to make them more suitable for the members' needs; but, on approaching the landlord, they found he was not willing to meet their views, and they decided to move into more suitable premises; which, after a good deal of trouble, was done, and has since been by the increased attendance at the rooms, that the change, together with the introduction of the electric light, has been much appreciated by the members.

Sappemeer after six policemen had been wounded. The military were called out and charged the mob. They were repulsed, leaving behind a soldier who was almost beaten to death. They then opened fire. Two rioters were killed, five others severely wounded and many were slightly wounded. Twenty men were arrested.

WASHINGTON, January 2nd. To-day was the quietest New Year Washington has experienced within living memory. The White House was not only a house of mourning, but was quarantined by reason of infectious fever. Consequently there could have been no Presidential reception even had no domestic bereavement forbidden it. The Cabinet offices and trading officials of the Government of course followed the example of the Chief of the Executive, and the entire omission of all the official receptions deprived the day of all the usual gaiety given to the occasion. With all the departments and places of business closed, there was scarcely anything excepting open bars and restaurants and closed churches to distinguish the day from the dullest of Washington's dull Sundays.

LONDON, January 2nd. The Baroness De Rique denies the truth of the report that Mrs. Mayfield, her daughter, is merely suffering illness. Such statements, she says, are not only false, but cruel. The Exchange Telegraph Company, however, confirms the truth of its first report that the wound from which the effusion of blood came was inflicted upon Mrs. Mayfield by herself with a knife obtained by her from a prison attendant.

The Mayor of Limerick gave a banquet this evening to the Parnellites and anti-Parnellites priests. The principal toast of the evening was "Ireland, a Nation." All the customary toasts to the Queen, etc., were omitted.

NEW YORK, January 3rd.

The Evening Post to-day says: The settlement of the Oregon contest makes it possible to give an accurate table of the vote for President as it should be cast by the Electoral College. The vote will show: Total number of votes, 444; necessary to a choice, 223; Cleveland's majority, 168. The total vote for the respective candidates will be as follows:

Cleveland, 276; Harrison, 144; Weaver, 24.

ST. LOUIS, January 3rd.

Rev. J. M. Rollins, stationed at Kobe, Japan, for several years as a missionary, has returned home in disgrace. The story came out through his efforts to obtain employment on the local press. Rollins is a brilliant man of the Foreign Missionary Society. The charge is that he assassinated another missionary's wife, Mrs. Duke. Rollins has confessed to his presiding elder, but not assault.

BERLIN, January 3rd.

The cold is severe and is increasing all over the continent. Last night the thermometer marked 11 degrees above zero. Heavy snow is falling in the Harz mountains and the suspension of traffic is threatened on several railways.

All the lakes in France, Germany and Austria are frozen over and night sleds are being organized. In most of the streets in Vienna thousands are employed all night clearing snow from the pavements. At Trieste the harbor presents an Arctic scene.

A whole family was drowned near Gilford while crossing the Aire on the ice.

Vienna, January 4th.

Violent snow storms prevailed through Austria and Hungary all day. All traffic was impeded and scores of villages are completely isolated. The South Austrian railway is impassable for almost its entire length. Express trains from Vienna for Trieste are snow-bound between stations and the military have been called upon to dig them out. Other lines are partially crippled. All the Imperial shooting parties in Styria have been postponed indefinitely.

A dispatch from Trieste says all traffic in that city has been stopped by drifts. The theatres are closed and no church services will be held to-morrow. Flume is also snowbound, and the wind is piling up drifts to the second-story windows in the streets. In this city the snow is piled ten or twelve feet high between the roads and side-walks. No marchion will come to town and there is great dearth of farm produce.

TONKIN, January 4th.

The weather has been very wintry for several days and much ice has formed in the Thamus. Traffic above and below London bridge is much impeded by pack ice. The upper river is frozen over.

CHEFOO.

(SHANGHAI MERCURY) Correspondent, Chefoo, 25th January, 1893.

It is difficult not to commence a few lines to you with this never failing topic; but I'll be short and sweet on the subject, since you have had weather of your own, to harp upon this everlasting string ad libitum. But I may be permitted to say at least what that reliable authority on this matter, our "oldest resident," has got to say; his dictum is "thirty years ago there was exactly the same weather as now"; he is old enough to know, and by what he said I understand him to intimate that every thirty odd years a similar kind of weather was likely to occur in China, as far as his knowledge went.

Of sailing vessels we have now only the "Newchwang squadron" in port; namely the light-vessel Newchwang, her tender the Daphne, and the pilot boat Jeanette. They will all leave in time to put in an appearance at the entrance of the Liung, the Newchwang river, early in the season.

We have occasional Shanghai steamers if not regular ones just now. Most of them return to your port, others take beans, or pulse, oil, linseed, and all that sort of thing to the southern ports, mostly to Swatow, I believe.

Our misfortune is that winter sometimes vessels cannot work very well, because "wind and weather" do not always permit. A suitable breakwater we have not, nor have we docks, for vessels to enter, and transact in tranquillity their business of loading and unloading, not to speak about dry docks for effecting repairs. Even the existence of a simple breakwater is out of question; we have not got it, and probably never shall have it. There will be no port in life in our harbour, before the Gulfs of Liuching and Peihli, or rather their treaty ports of Newchwang and Tientsin, will open to trade, after the frost and China New Year. Our little friend the steamship Kwangchih, has made some brave attempts to keep our business up a little, by continuing communication between here and our neighbouring province of Shingking, just across the water in a northerly direction, in running to Lushunkou, which name, I believe, means a donkey's jaw; whether the configuration of the land is simply the imitation of the Natives is responsible for the choice of this non-poetic appellation, I know not. Perhaps old Samson may be blamed for this name being selected, because he slew a large number of Philistines with the jawbones of a jackass, and Lushunkou being a naval station, the Celestials hope to slay from this stronghold any maritime Philistines, who may venture past it on their road to Peking, before the Ailens once successfully proceeded to the poor woman, for the mother, grief at such a time is not taken into account in general; but it was pleasant to find mutual sympathy and mutual affection in this Chinese family.

that her employers have not several more steamers of her class on this station; she has certainly proved herself a most useful vessel while stationed here, and her late trips to Lushunkou (Port Arthur) have been regular, trump cards. There are always lots of passengers coming and going between here and the Liuching province, and valuable cargo is ready for trans-shipment, giving the preference to steamer communication, if the junk traffic can be thereby availed.

It is so carefully studied by those who are responsible for the omission that no one can be found to regularly continue our station in communication with Port Arthur during the winter, because it affords such a fine connection between the ports of Newchwang and Chefoo in winter; understand our latest arrival's from Newchwang to Port Arthur were only four days on the road, and the latter is open to large improvements yet. If the Chinese do not inaugurate regular steam communication between here and the nearest port in the rich province off us, Port Arthur, only about eighty miles from here, I can repeat the old saying quem Jupiter vult vult perdere, proutestis.

The Kwangchih has also done much to foster our connection with the delta of the Hoang-ho, quite a new and eligible area of profitable enterprise, the value of which we are only now beginning to know. At present we are only at the threshold of an almost inexhaustible field of knowledge, of the lower regions of the Yellow River, the very region undergoing a certain process of important changes, which requires to be followed with great attention.

Spain has decided to make a special Government grant to assist Spanish artists in exhibiting their works at the World's Fair.

A bill providing for a tax on contracts for the future delivery of stocks and bonds has passed the Spanish Chamber of Deputies.

J. W. Hobbs, the manager of the Liberal Building Society at London, which recently failed owing over $10,000,000, is to be tried for fraud.

The next World's Fair will be held at Rome, in 1896, to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the annexation of Rome to the Kingdom of Italy.

The term of the President of France is seven years. He receives a salary of $12,000 a year in addition to $60,000 a year for household expenses.

The native contingents trained by Indian Princes as their contribution toward Indian defence are rapidly becoming most valuable auxiliary forces.

The Rapelle states that there are now throughout France 444,000 establishments open for the sale of intoxicating liquors. In Paris alone there are 27,000.

The Russian Government proposes to give a free trip to Siberia and India in that hospitable region to the people who are "cornering" the market in petroleum.

The Swiss Government has resolved that the tariff on imports from France shall go into effect this month. All hopes of a commercial entente between the two countries are now gone.

A disease has shown itself at Lille, in France, which is supposed to be the old historic plague, a disease which has not been known in Europe west of Turkey for more than a century.

It is claimed for the new magnesium flashlight for light-houses, introduced experimentally in Germany, that its ability to penetrate almost opaque atmospheres exceeds that of any other known light.

In England cheap tobacco is now often wrapped in packages containing graphic illustrations of the glories of a soldier's life, the authorities hoping in this way to induce many ambitious rustics and cockneys to join the ranks.

The head cooks of Paris have formed a "Culinary Academy" in imitation of the Academy of France. Its purpose is the preservation of the art of cooking. At their monthly meetings the members compare notes and invent new dishes.

Owing to an attempt recently made by the Nobbs and the Rothschilds to "corner" the naphtha market, the Russian Government intends to adopt a law making the "cornering" of grain, provisions or any other commodity illegal.

Possibly it is impossible to form a "correct guess" of the misery that exists among the Chinaman's people. The Tolstoi, willing in the Russian Gazette, says it would be impossible for him to describe the real situation of the people in the inland districts.

It is reported in the Journal du Jardin d'Acclimatation that eight or ten days before the appearance of cholera in Hamburg last summer all the sparrows and other birds left the town and suburbs, and did not return until the plague had completely disappeared.

Paris is to have a new terror, a daily newspaper in the interest of professional beggars.

It will give its readers a complete list of baptisms, weddings and funerals to take place the same day, which may be assumed to afford a good pointer for the use of begging letter-writers.

Among the candidates nominated for the coming elections by the French woman-suffragists is Mme. Jaricot, a tailor's assistant, who was decorated with the Legion of Honor for bravery on the battlefield; several sculptors, painters and journalists, and Mme. Sam Bernhardt. Most of them have accepted.

English papers report a phenomenal marriage which took place at South Shields. The bridegroom was 6 feet 2 inches in height the bride 3 feet 2½ in. high. The three witnesses were a man without arms, who signed the marriage contract with a pen the stock of which he held between his teeth, a woman who weighed 350 pounds, and a man 7 feet 6 inches high.

The Montora was built in Singapore, is most solidly constructed of teak throughout, with iron wood frames, has recently been thoroughly overhauled under experienced European superintendence, and is now in excellent condition.
